

U. S. JUDGE MAY BE CHOSEN BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS

John Bassett Moore Is Named Possibility For Election

FIVE COUNTRIES ARE COMPETING

Believe Six Judiciaries Will Be Chosen On First Ballot

GENEVA, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Competition among 35 of 45 states, members of the league of nations for the election of judges to the international court of justice and for the four seats in the league council gave life to the assembly session today.

The assembly leaders to have represented in the court all principal geographical divisions and all races, have been somewhat complicated by the ambitions of most states to be represented by their own members, both on the court and in the council, while South America announced it would be content with one member in the council, but desires not less than three on the court.

There remain eighty names on the list of nominations, including that of William Root who is not regarded as having officially declined. Only about 25 however, are expected to receive votes. Viscount Finlay, Great Britain; Dr. Andreu, France; Yagoda, U. S.; Commendatore Di- onisio Anselotti, Italy; Dr. Ruy Barboza, Brazil; and Dr. C. L. de la Haza, Argentina, are reported as practically certain of election.

John Bassett Moore of the United States is considered a strong possibility. Competing with him are four remaining states in very lively contention, the United States, Canada, Scandinavia, the Slavs, the Czechs and the British dominions.

President Warren G. Harding announced that the assembly and council both will begin voting for judges of the court at 10 o'clock tomorrow. The election of the judges is expected on the first two or three ballots. The principal powers—Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the United States—will have one vote each. The other 35 states will have one vote each. Dr. Ruy Barboza of Brazil, endorsed by Bolivia, Chile and Venezuela, besides his own country, is also looked on as the first ballot choice. However, he will require prolonged balloting in the opinion of most observers.

It was announced Signor Scialoja, head of the Italian delegation, would be one of the three experts appointed to inquire into the competency of the assembly to take up the dispute between Bolivia and Chile.

Other states have been selected. Taking the floor in the general debate which was continued on the opening of the assembly session, Signor Scialoja of Italy, declared that he would be glad to understand that his country was as much interested as any in discussion of world affairs. He was glad, he added, that on the initiative of the conference would be held in Washington from which he hoped might come good results of the same character as those sought by the league.

HITCH ARISES IN IRISH PEACE

Ask New Explanation Of Terms

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—An unexpected hitch has arisen in the Irish negotiations. Premier Lloyd George who is in Galway, Ireland, today received a telegram from the Irish delegation in London, headed by Michael Collins, another Sinn Fein representative, according to an official communication issued by the British government.

It is understood that the latter which Counters McGrath and Boland bore to the premier asked for fresh explanation of the British government's latest communication and that these points are of vital importance, necessitating return of the couriers to Dublin for consultation with Dr. de Valera and his colleagues.

The new development will delay the proposed conference between the government and the Irish plenipotentiaries beyond September 20, the date suggested by Mr. Lloyd George.

Michael Collins, who has been designated by the composition of the Irish delegation, Michael Collins, commander of the Irish republican army, is mentioned now as a possible delegate and it is still possible Mr. de Valera will consent to head the delegation.

QUIET REIGNS IN OILFIELDS

W. J. Yarrow Leader Of Strike

Yarrow immediately did the same. (Signed) Battalion Commander, E. H. CORNELI, "Sincerely yours," "FRED W. JACKSON."

Parade Held At Taft

TAFT, Sept. 13.—More than 2500 strikers and their families, together with sympathizers in the strike movement, paraded through the streets at 7 o'clock tonight in the first real demonstration since the strike was called late Sunday night. The parade ended at the Sunshina theater, where Walter Thomas Mills of Berkeley, spoke to a crowded house. His subject was "Victories and Defeats of Organized Co-operators."

The speaker also dealt at length on the strike situation. Some few smaller companies were still operating today on the West Side, but the Standard, the latter company not being affected by the strike order, it was rumored today by union circles that these companies would not operate tomorrow as the operators and workers had been warned by union committees that to continue operations would mean trouble.

Strike committees on both Taft locals claim a total of 13 companies signed up late last night and today, these companies, however, are all small and employ but a few men. Where companies sign up the men are advised to return to work and it is estimated by union officials that over 800 have returned.

Place Strikers At 800

Special to The Republican. COALINGA, Sept. 13.—A careful check of all the companies in the Coalinga field that have been affected by the strike of oil workers called Sunday at midnight shows a minimum of 525 and a maximum of 800 men called off the horses in this field. The check was made by going over the list of companies showing that the following were pumping wells on their properties last night and today:

Union, Caribou, Record, Amy, Mohave, St. Paul and Columbia, Coalinga, West Coalinga Oil & Development Co., Salvia Oil Co., Mercedille Crude, S. W. & B. Call Oil Co., Main State, W. M. & M., Commercial, California Oil & Gas, W. H. H. Lucile, Jefferson, Pacific States, Ward, Coalinga, Empire, Inca and Rhodes.

None of the above larger concerns are pumping all of their wells. Some of the smaller ones, however, with but from one to three wells are operating as usual. The companies with a great many more wells are pumping but a few and it is expected that so soon as these are handed up they will be shut down. The production, however, from all the wells, outside of the Shell and Standard, will not amount to very much. No one seems able to predict just what action is going to be taken by the operators to offset the strike. At present there is no indication that they intend to run in any new rigs to replace the workers on the lease and it is believed that for the matter of a few weeks the operators will mark time and await developments.

MANY SHIPPING VESSELS IDLE

Boats Are Anchored In Harbor

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Scores of the ships equipped for any kind of cargo, are waiting at anchor, like hunting dogs on leash, in every part of the world awaiting a return of normal conditions in maritime business. Extensive war time construction of cargo carriers, followed by a gradually increasing depression in world's shipping business, has created a new problem for port-officers and steamship owners. A few years ago keen competition was required to secure a loading or discharging berth.

Today, the competition is to secure a safe and convenient place where ships may be kept up at the least possible overhead expense where they can be ready for instant response to steam and passenger when commerce again calls.

In New York and vicinity, the task of finding safe anchorage falls to Captain Byron L. Reed of the U. S. Coast Guard service, designated by the government as port captain.

Vessels have been called upon to serve as floating places for life ships. In Panama Bay, a large semi-submersible of water at the authority of Long Island, many more ships have been abandoned. Up Long Island Sound as far as the Connecticut line, every available bay having sufficient depth of water has been called upon.

Companies having a number of ships held up together in group thons. They are moored close together and one of the vessels is designated as a "mother ship." As a protection against fire, steam is kept up and lines of hose are laid from her pumps to each of the other craft. In the mother ship a crew of ten or twelve is maintained, with a single watchman for the other vessels.

It is not only American ships which are held up in United States harbors. Captain Reed said, but many foreign craft are held here in idleness awaiting a resumption of business that will afford them a chance to return to their normal work.

Embroidery Still Trims New Suits

The three-piece suit is always with us, never in very great numbers, to be sure, but still it is ever present. Fall seems to be the ideal season to wear the three-piece suit, for one never knows just what the day may be as to temperature. With the three-piece suit, one may be warm or cool at will. Embroidery, which designers are always telling us "is going out," is far from that stage. In fact, "it" seems to be just as much embroidered as ever, particularly on suits and wraps. This stunning three-piece suit here is made of rich velvet trimmed with dull gold embroidery. The wide, loose sleeves of the coat, together with the embroidery, give a hint of the opulent to the coat. The frock is a straight, one-piece model made with a low belt and slight blouse.

MONUMENT TO BE 351 FEET

Dedication is Postponed Indefinitely

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 13.—Plans to complete and dedicate the Jefferson Davis monument next June have been abandoned in favor of running the shaft to 351 feet. This which was the original height projected, will make it second only to the Washington monument.

Dedication of this memorial, the president of the Confederacy at the home at Farmington, Ky., has accordingly been set forward to an indefinite date in the future. The monument is now close to the 351 feet at which it was proposed to halt its construction.

The daughters of the Confederacy have undertaken to raise the sum necessary to finish its work. They are planning to raise $25,000 while the sale of souvenir certificates at one dollar each.

"It is true," says John H. Leathers, of this city, treasurer of the Jefferson Davis Home Association, "that in the minds of some of the veterans the opinion was expressed that 'it might be best to run the shaft up as far as 351 feet.' Then I've its completion to those who might take up the work later on. This idea seemed to me, with no favor especially among the daughters of the Confederacy, that loving, patriotic band of noble women of the South, who said they would undertake to see that the monument is completed."

Major Leathers points out that the heaviest part of the expense of the monument has already been met.

THE APPLICATION OF TRUTH IN ADVERTISING

THE fundamental principle of advertising is truth, by which is meant the statement of all important facts regarding the article advertised without suppression of details, which if omitted, would tend to jeopardize or destroy the confidence of the public. An advertisement should describe the merchandise as to:

- 1.—Quality: material.
- 2.—Condition: class, first, seconds or damaged.
- 3.—Price: regular or special.

Take The Public Into Your Confidence

The one dominant theme of this series of advertisements is "Truth in Advertising"—you as advertisers, must apply it for two reasons: (1) You will reap two-fold benefit from your advertising. (2) The law requires it.

On Materials—WOOL and all wool mean the same thing. An article to be advertised under these headings without qualifications, must be 100% wool.

LONG CONVICTED

We do not know anything about the guilt or innocence of any of the men now held on the so-called murder charges, except in the case of Wong Toy, who has been convicted. But we do know that the state of organized murder rampant in California, participated in by Chinese, most of them native born Americans, must be crushed out.

The efforts of public officials to throw light on the situation must be upheld and furthered. The people of California have no interest whatever in any of the defendants except to see justice done. But this sort of personal neutrality need not and should not extend to the long system. It is not on trial. It was long ago convicted.

The long system no longer has even the excuse that it had a generation ago, that it was necessary for the defense of the Chinese on this coast. When the tongs were introduced, they were of use to the Chinese. Hated by the whites, lonely and struggling in an alien land, where in most instances the courts as well as the officials and the constabulary were contemptuous of them, the formation of mutual benefit secret societies was a natural course.

But these societies have no longer any field except that of interference with the proper course of these men as citizens of the United States. Instead of being helpful, they are hindrances. Instead of being educative they are degenerative.

The Chinese of California no longer need aid more than other men. They are not persecuted. They are not treated with contumely. They have just as good opportunity to get justice as do men of other races.

They must be taught that they must abandon their murder societies.

The district attorney of Fresno county must be upheld in his drive against the relics of the Dark Ages—the tongs.

NEED WATCHING

Charges such as that made by Dr. Haven Emerson that the veterans' bureau at Washington is dominated by politics and that "blacksmiths and policemen" are taking the place of the scientific "medical men" in the bureau's operation, are to be expected. They may be true. They may be merely the figment of a biased or an affronted mind.

It is even more important, than to investigate these particular charges, that the possibilities which cause such charges to appear shall be carefully watched for, weighed and dealt with.

The progress of good work must not be interfered with by the personal grievances of men, no matter how valuable their work, why are temperamental in their relations to organized activity.

But it must not be possible for bureaus such as that established to care for the interests of the veterans, to degenerate into mere treadmill institutions, serving the purposes of their personnel and not accomplishing the purpose of the government in establishing them.

ACCEPTABLE DECISION

The good sense of the people of California will accept at once the dictum of the Supreme Court of the state that the alien poll tax is contrary to the principles of the constitution of the United States.

Whatever merit this assessment may have had as a taxation measure was counter balanced by the feeling that it had an ulterior motive. It was an harassment on persons whom we had no need to harass. It levied an unequal burden on people whom an assurance had been given of equal civil rights.

And there was no permanent value to us in the distinction. The raising of the money by this tax was of value only this year, not next. No permanent rights were concerned, no permanent relationships created or prevented.

The people of California and of the United States have a serious duty to perform for themselves and their children and children's children. They must preserve their state and their nation as a birthright. This is a great, a permanent problem. It must be dealt with in a large way.

We must not complicate the large decision by any fussing, any petty interference with rights or privileges that lead nowhere.

ETHNOGRAPHIC

It was the difference between the racial and the economic view of national lines that caused the greatest confusion in the settlement of the world war. It is this difference that has caused the most of the severe criticism of the terms of the Versailles treaty. President Wilson's determination to make the new lines following the war "self-determinative" found no means of expression except in what he viewed as "nations" and nations were to him groups of human beings allied together by ethnological distinctions. Ever since, the wise men of the world have been pleasing themselves by upholding or tearing down this "race" theory.

The usual awful example of the refusal of persons to neatly group themselves as races has been the Balkans. In that territory, where one village is inhabited by Jugo-Slavs, another by Bulgars, another by Vlachs, another by Greeks; where one commune is organized by Orthodox Serbs and another by Catholic Croats, there has appeared no possibility of creating political units of cohesive races. Any grouping along racial lines would make a political map look like Joseph's coat.

There is a nearer light, however, to be thrown on the problem.

In Morocco, the people of Spain are carrying on an expensive, an irritating and a seemingly unending warfare with the Moors. A strip of the north is held by Spain, the rest of the country is presumably autonomous, with a certain hegemony held by the government of France.

The coast line and the interior are essential to each other. This relationship is recognized by Moslem and Gibr alke. Neither the Moors nor the Spanish would presume to separate the fate of the coast and the interior.

Yet the coast is inevitably Spanish and the interior is unavoidably Moorish. No one can imagine the people of Spain being confined to the European coast with the Moors possessing the African coast. The Moors for one thing have no use for a coast. They could not understand it. They have no need for it. The coast, as a means of livelihood, of commerce, of political disposition, is available to the Spanish or other Europeans, and not at all to the Moors.

Where then shall self determination begin and end in Morocco, seeing the question from the exterior view?

How can warfare of the sort that is now being waged between the Spanish and the Moors be settled on some other basis than that of extermination of one or the other people?

Is not the distinction between the needs of this coast and of the interior of Morocco even more important than the difference created by the existence of the strait of Gibraltar? Yet are not the people who determine policies more convinced of the use of water as dividing lines than of economic boundaries?

We need to find bases of agreement that shall keep the peace.

To cry "Peace! peace! when there is no peace," is an assurance of war.

To find the means by which people's desires can be satisfied or restrained, will bring real peace.

President Wilson's error, if he was in error, was to assume that, with racial groups barred off from one another politically, the greatest cause of international irritation would be removed.

Ever since, the advocates of economic boundaries have been punching holes in the race theory.

We need a new formula for grouping that shall, perhaps, satisfy both.

THIS "OPEN DOOR"

Count Soyechima, liberal member of the Japanese parliament, says that Japan in the coming international conference, must not bring up the "vague question of racial equality," but must insist on the "open door."

The count is quite right. This is not a vague nor a visionary demand. It is very practical.

For it means that, in return for the "open door" of trade into China, the Japanese should be given an "open door" of migration into the United States.

Consider what things are here offset against each other.

Japan is asked to deny herself the opportunity to set up a trade ring around China and Siberia. Japan is asked to refrain from preventing the United States and other countries from having an equal right with her in shipping goods in and out of the east coast of Asia.

In return, she would ask that the United States deny having any right to prevent Japanese from free admission into the United States. And by inference, Canada would be asked to give an equal freedom to her ports and an equal freedom would be granted to Chinese or any other Asiatics who might desire admission to America.

Of course no such "open door" to immigration from Asia into America will be considered for a minute.

But this interview shows how still the Japanese are keen on using the trading point of vague and ephemeral advantages which she holds for practical advantages which she desires.

It shows how live the people of the United States must be to preserving actual rights, even while trying to obtain or to retain useful opportunities.

FRESNO REPUBLICAN

Twenty Years Ago Today

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 12.—President McKinley died at 2:15 this morning. He had been unconscious since 7:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His last conscious hour on earth was spent with the wife to whom he devoted a life-time in care. He was 58 years of age and had been twice elected President of the United States.

J. B. Eastwood, head surveyor of the Mammoth Power company, accompanied by R. C. Lacey Jr., A. B. and A. W. Peters, has returned from a surveying trip through the canyon of the San Joaquin river. The primary object of the trip was to locate sites for reservoirs for the storage of water to be used in dry years, and also to gather necessary data for engineering purposes and investigate rights of way into the government forest reserve.

The party left here on August 14, following the canyon of the San Joaquin far back and going over the range beyond Mammoth City. When the gentlemen first entered the canyon, the heavy rain of the season had just fallen. There were evidences of a recent rain of a most terrific winter. Tree after tree had been struck by lightning and split open, often being splintered almost to fragments. The hills were strewn with small lumps of pumice stone, blown there by the wind, the tendency of the rain being to wash the light substance into the canyon. The courses of fifty avalanches, marked by clean-cut paths through the trees, were discovered, the greatest number known since the big flood of 1868.

The scenery of the San Joaquin canyon, says Mr. Eastwood, is very rugged, but still is much tamer than that of the Kings and Merced canyons. The reason for this is that the erosion of the canyon by the river was interrupted by volcanic overflows, which filled the partially formed canyon with substance harder than granite. The entire country is of a volcanic nature. There are places in the canyon where glaciers in passing over some of the volcanic deposits have worn them down as smooth as polished glass, until blocked out by the original formation of the canyon, yielding more readily to the glacial action, they resemble the pavements of a city street. There are evidences that the country has been a volcanic desert. Far up in the mountains a sage brush was found growing.

Mr. Peters, the photographer of the party, obtained some excellent views of the scenery along the canyon. One of the most beautiful views is of a waterfall on Big Creek. The fall is nearly 100 feet in width, and is in a broad, smooth sheet that drops in a beautiful curve onto the rocks below. There are many views that show the great height of the rock walls of the canyon and the difficulty of the engineering feats which the big power company must complete with. The party named many of the canyons and hills along the way. Artistic names were chosen. One canyon being dubbed "Grip Chuck" and another "Ding Maui."

The party passed through Mammoth City, the deserted village of the great Sierras. This city, once a mining camp of many thousands of inhabitants is now but a collection of empty huts and foundations of ruined cabins. There are a few people living there, but they are a wayward race, the charge of a mill operated a few years ago. A wagon road runs from there to Bishop Creek, Inyo county, and there is considerable civilization within a few miles of the place.

The party found a number of fine reservoir sites. The largest covers 100 acres, and is to be constructed with a dam forty feet high and 250 feet wide on the top. Another is to cover 600 acres, the dam to be thirty feet high and 300 feet wide. There will be six reservoirs in all.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

A Lesson In World Politics

Reports of the coming disarmament conference will be telegraphed and cabled all over the world.

If wise counsels prevail, as they probably will, there will be little secrecy about it.

You will read day by day the opinions of the ablest men in the whole world upon its most important problems.

Do not for an instant harbor the idea that this will be dull or uninteresting or something that you can afford to skip.

There will be no necessity of neglecting the sporting page, or the studies of the latest divorce, or the dramatic notices, or the colored supplement. You have far more time than you use, anyway.

D devote a part of it to reading carefully everything that is printed about the disarmament conference.

Read the sketches of the men who are taking part. Look up their records. Learn who they are, and how they happened to be participating in the most important council in the world.

Follow the proceedings day by day. Inform yourself upon the purposes of the nations, as they are reflected at the conference.

This may not be a perfect world, but it is the only world you are likely to live in for some time.

There is nothing as interesting as the people who are in it, and the progress they are making toward a better world.

If the conference results in an honest and complete interchange of opinion it will go far toward making it not only a better, but a cheaper world for you to live in. But much will still remain to be done. The future development of the race will depend upon you and the other people who may not be included in the Washington sessions.

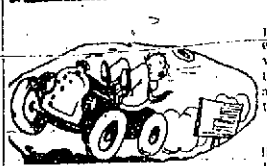

You will be better able to do your part later with your ballot, and with your influence if you understand public questions.

A great opportunity is before you to study them. Follow all that is done and all that is said.

Upon the intelligent energy of the future citizens depends the development of the world. If you are a citizen, present or future, it is your business to be as intelligent as you can. You will never be intelligent if you regard the news of so important an affair as the disarmament conference as a mere reading.

DYE, A KEY INDUSTRY

From Associated Advertising

The creative industries of America are a part of the warp and woof of advertising. Advertising, itself a creative business force, draws sustenance and energy from the creative and the fabricating industries of the nation.

Every advertising man worthy of the name is a creator. He has a definite stake in productive enterprises. They are the foundation of our country's economic existence. The advertising man or vision endevors to translate knowledge of industrial conditions and needs into power that will react in the market and insure to the benefit of production.

At the present time, strong in buying power, is necessary to manufacturing prosperity. Continuous production—the profitable employment of men, capital and raw materials—gives rise to marketing forces released by advertising and the men who create it.

Today the organic chemical industry is faced to face with a situation which threatens its existence. Its production and fundamental position in the structure of American economic life seems to have fallen thus far of appreciation by the public. The fact that its products are of paramount importance to our national life seems to have been submerged in a simple cloud of misunderstanding and confusion.

This key industry has dye-making as its base. Dye-making is a process which rather than a "dead" industry, is a rather "lively" one. It is a process which has been developed by centuries of dyeing garments and users of dyed materials are due to the industry of American dyes and the lack of importation of foreign dyes. Initiating an investigation, due to complaints that misleading claims were appearing in advertisements concerning the fact that our national life seems to have been submerged in a simple cloud of misunderstanding and confusion.

The National Vigilance Committee has found no dye-making monopoly in this country, as various antagonists of the industry have been claiming. The Committee has held that it is our duty to have a monopoly which is preferable to have one which is a part of our own industrial life, and which can control more than one of the foreign men who have no jurisdiction whatever.

When the advertising man considers the foundations on which his work rests, he must think of the fact that creative advertising, the man who thinks of advertising by itself alone only imagines he is thinking of advertising.

Some Young Sprig

Sakes alive, folks,
In these here days
A body must be careful
Every minute
And be watching his step
Forever more
To keep his job.
Here I was away down
To the Cafeteria Belt
For a day or so
And got my dates crossed
On mail delivery
So that the Mouthful's
Didn't get to Fresno
Exactly in time
And some young sprig
Seizes the opportunity
To jump into my shoes.
And the way he does it
Fills me with anger.
He sort of intimates
That I'm down there
Sojourning.
As you might say,
In the Movie Colony
And picking and selecting
A beautiful queen
For the Fresno Fair
And he knows you know.
That right at this time
It's not fashionable
Nor very fitting
To be tied up
In any manner whatsoever
With that colony.
People will read
What this lad writes
And then they'll say:
"Dear-o-dear-o-dear,
Isn't this shocking?
Here's Scotty
Hand in hand,

As the saying is,
With these movie people
And the chances are
At one of their parties
And taking drugs
Or strange drinks
Or something of that kind
And reveling.
To put it in plain words,
When he should be home
And working at his job."
That's what they'll say
And I may be years
Getting back a reputation
Or I may never
Get it all back.
I wouldn't be surprised
To be asked
If I was down there
Making an application
To take Fatty's place
In movie pictures.
The trouble with me
Is that I got
Too darned enterprising—
I used to use language
In this here "Mouthful"
That had them stumped.
They couldn't read it
Nor write it
Nor spell it
Nor understand it
Nor if he'd gone
They'd let me be gone
In peace and quiet,
With no young squirt
Getting ambitious
All of a sudden
And trying to take away
My good job.
Those were grand times
And I could feel safe,
But no more—
No more at all, at all.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

Lullaby

The pirate sails through the howling gales,
That lather the rocking sea;
He is sleeping in sin to his bearded chin,
A terrible man is he.
He paints the decks of the ship he wrecks
With her shivering sailors' gore,
And he smirks and winks as the vessel sinks
To the ocean's slimy floor!

So lay your head on your trundle bed
And hurry away to sleep,
Or he may get YOU and consign you to
The depths of the briny deep!

The cannibal smiles on his palm fringed isles,
As he thinks how rarely sweet,
And how nice and fresh is the tender flesh
Of the folks that he means to eat.
The flames burn hot 'neath the boiling pot,
And soon with a happy grin,
The froth he'll skim from the bubbling brim,
And pop his victims in.

So close your eyes when the daylight dies
For the cannibal loves his stew,
And unless your sleep is sound and deep
Perhaps he might get YOU!

LODGE HONORS VALLEY WOMAN

Dr. Flora W. Smith Back
From East

Dr. Flora W. Smith, who has recently returned from the east, was appointed supreme standard bearer of the Supreme Council, Order of Amaranth of the World at the sessions a short time ago. This is the highest and most important position in the organization. Amaranth are greatly pleased with the honor being given to the Junior East Grand Royal Matron Dr. Smith.

The constructive work completed, and the large amount of relief extended during the last administration, placed this state among the first and resulted in the selection of Oakland as the place for the next meeting of the council, in June, 1922.

Next Saturday evening at the invitation of the grand officers to San Joaquin Valley Court, a special escort will be given to two members of this court who will be introduced from the east, Dr. Flora Smith, supreme standard bearer of the Amaranth and Harry S. Foster, supreme standard bearer of the Amaranth. The changes made in the rulings of the order at the supreme session was the removing of the Order of the Eastern Star as the basis of membership, requisite now being based on Muscular affiliation. The order is growing very rapidly and this change makes the opportunities much greater for placing the order in new localities. Several new courts will soon be organized in California.

Leave For Oakland To Make Residence

Mr. and Mrs. William D. McCellan, who formerly conducted a photo and art studio, have moved to Oakland to live owing to Mr. McCellan's health. Mrs. Edith D. McCellan was very active in local club work. As a member of the Junior League Club she was chairman of the tuberculous committee, that has been recently engaged in the selection of a site for a new sanatorium. She was also a prominent member of the Daughters of Veterans and the Women's Relief Corps.

Mrs. McCellan was president of the local Business and Professional Women's Club for many years, and expects to affiliate with the Oakland organization of the same name.

Nearly One Thousand In Technical High

Nearly a thousand students have enrolled in the Junior High at the Fresno Technical school, where only about 400 were expected, according to F. H. Sutton, principal, yesterday. Owing to the 1920 students expected by the end of the week for part-time work and $20 for technical studies, the number in the Junior high will be limited. A fine of $30 from the employer who employs a boy or girl within the part-time age limit and $50 from the parents is placed by law unless the boy or girl attends part time school as specified.

SAILORS WATCH BIG BULL FIGHT

Skilled Horsemanship
Seen in Entertainment

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Sailors of the American warships who were entertained in this city when the American squadron visited Portugal, the other day, saw a Portuguese bull fight and justly cheered for one of the bulls.

A Portuguese bull-fight is more a display of splendid horsemanship and skillful feats than a cruel sport, such as the Spanish bull-fight. There is no bloodshed. The bulls are merely teased by the bull-fighters and these who pierce his hide with their tormenting darts. The horns of the bulls are covered with leather balls so that they can do no great damage and the proof of the skill of the horseman is never to let his horse be touched by them. It makes his horse curvet around the furious animal, occasionally placing his "ferros" in the bull's neck.

After that a group of peasants wearing green and red caps advance into the ring and each in turn tries to throw himself on the bull, either between his horns or on his neck, and to cling on there despite the frantic attempt of the animal to rid himself. If one succeeds in clinging on as all the other peasants rush up and hang on to the bull until he is reduced to impotence.

The American boys cheered all this with great enthusiasm but the real outbreak came when one bull leaped after one of his tormentors over a wooden partition and into a group of bull-fighters scattering them right and left.

Roars of laughter filled the enormous circus and a thundering cheer and cries of "bull, bull, bull" burst from the throat of the Americans.

The bull-fighters suddenly forgot their elegant attitude and studied poses and fled in wild disorder while the amphitheater resounded with the laughter and cheers of the Americans.

HALF MILLION TO BE IDLE

Winter Relief Measures
Formulated

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Half a million men will be idle in New York this winter, in the opinion of reliable investigators, and the city has set machinery in motion to meet this situation.

In addition to relief measures planned by a special city committee named by Mayor Hylan, 24 charity organizations have decided to pool their resources and establish a general clearing house in order to avoid duplication of effort and handle the problem efficiently.

The Merchants Association of New York and the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce have joined hands with the Central Trades and Labor Council and the Building Trades Council to formulate a practical program. These organizations believe the most effective way of pushing building projects, thus giving employment to thousands.

The problem of the ex-servicemen is at the heart of the entire situation, said Major William P. Deegan of the American Legion, one of the members of the mayor's committee. He said 75,000 former soldiers were out of work during the summer and the fewer the number will be now, said to be between 100,000 and 125,000 in winter.

"We have no funds to help them," he said, "but we never let a man go away with his hands empty. We have to dig in our own pockets to help them."

Down on the crowded East Side, the poverty lodging houses are all-day sleeping quarters in the open, in every park, on every pier, in alleys, in storeyards and anywhere they can huddle out of the way and "keep," said Major Underwood of the Salvation Army. "They cannot do so when it becomes cold."

Men Abandon Their Kissing Practices

ANGORA, Sept. 13.—The age-old custom of man publicly kissing other men as a mark of affection, esteem or reverence, is passing in Asia Minor.

As in the French army, high officers or generals of the Turk Nationalist army kiss men whom they create or wish to command. General Ismet Pasha, in reviewing infantry often walks up to some stalwart soldier, slaps him on the shoulder, and kisses him on both cheeks as a mark of public approval. The correspondent has seen a high officer kneel and kiss the hands of General Moudjahid Bey, a former teacher of the younger officer.

But in general, as a custom of the people, of friends meeting and embracing after long separation, kissing is a thing of the past.

Famous Stamp Sold For 150,000 Francs

MONTELU, T. II., Sept. 13.—An old Italian two-cent stamp issued in 1850 and popularly known as the "Italian murder stamp" was sold recently in Paris at a stamp auction for 150,000 francs, approximately $12,500, according to advices reaching the territorial authorities here.

The stamp was issued during the reign of King Humbert I. It derived its designation of the "murder stamp" from the death of Garibaldi, a noted stamp collector. In 1892, according to territorial officials there are only thirteen known copies of the "murder stamp" extant.

Rely on Cuticura To Clear Away Skin Troubles

For eczema, eruptions, itching, dandruff, etc., use Cuticura. Directions on box. Sold everywhere.

The most marvelous machine in the world—and how it is neglected

AWAY back in the school books was a lesson on physiology.

Rather dull as a lesson. Yet it was the story of the most marvelous machine ever created—and how the machine gets its power and does its work.

That machine is the human body.

Some day the mechanical expert of this machine—the doctor—finds out for us where we have missed the lesson and neglected the machine.

GRAPE-NUTS food was made in accordance with the school book lesson on what the body needs and how its needs may best be supplied.

It is possible for a delicious food to be a scientific, "power" food. Grape-
Nuts is such a food.

Perfecting Natural Gifts

Twenty hours of continuous baking has done certain wonderful things to the nourishing properties of whole wheat and malted barley flour, from which Grape-Nuts is made—and has produced a food in the form of crisp, golden-brown granules.

You chew Grape-Nuts thoroughly.

The rich, sweet flavor of Grape-Nuts is the reward of chewing. Nature meant the teeth to be used. Primitive people, who keep the natural teeth sound and perfect to old age, are eaters of food which requires chewing.
Grape-Nut gives the teeth work to do.

Perhaps you remember a little of the physiology lesson, now—how the salivary juices respond when the food is thoroughly chewed—and the first important step in digestion is taken.

Life-Giving Properties

Wheat and malted barley are richest of all grains in the food elements required for human use. In Grape-Nuts all the essentials provided by nature in these grains are retained and perfected. The long, slow baking process which produces Grape-Nuts turns the grain's starches into natural sweetness and breaks up the nutritive solids into forms easily assimilated by the body.

The exceptional nourishment from Grape-Nuts is secured with no tax upon the digestion.

Penalties for Mistakes

When the doctor, as the mechanical expert of the bodily machine, comes to give advice in case of trouble, he finds that harm as well as good, often has resulted from food.

"Starchy" foods have been the subject of many warnings. Food which passes too slowly through the digestive tract causes disturbances to which much of the slowing down, wearing out, and failure of the bodily machine is traced.

A characteristic of Grape-Nuts is that it digests quickly and completely—without fermentation in the intestines.

A World Service

There is, therefore, a reason why, throughout the world, Grape-Nuts has steadily grown in favor these many years, as a food for fitness, as well as charm to taste.

You can apply that reason to your own benefit.

Ready to eat from the package, always crisp, naturally sweet—served with cream or milk and a little sugar if desired—Grape-Nuts is an ideal dish for breakfast or lunch.

BOND EXPERTS INSPECT ROADS

Kern County Leading State, Claim

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 13.—Fifteen of the state's leading bond experts and representatives of the various bond companies of Los Angeles arrived in Bakersfield yesterday and were the guests of the District Bond Company of Los Angeles at a luncheon in a local hotel. Included in the group were the supervisors of Kern county and a number of local bankers, as well as representatives of the various bond companies. After luncheon the party made a motor trip over the China grade and inspected the Kern River highway and other available and potential road sources within road district No. 10. The inspection was for the purpose of satisfying the minds of the bond men that the wealth within the boundaries of the road district is more than adequate to meet all indebtedness outstanding on the bonds. "Kern county is leading the state in building roads," said one of the party enroute over the newly built highway, "connecting Bakersfield with the oilfields. Kern is not only building the heaviest and widest roads, but it is building the longest stretches, which provides large local markets, making it easier for bondmen to dispose of the paper economically."

Affects 2612 In

MODESTO, Sept. 13.—County Assessor George Threlfall stated yesterday that his office had so far collected from registered aliens between $100 and $120. But once clerk was hired to stay in the office and send out notices, none having been sent to work in the field. Twenty-six hundred and twelve aliens representing forty-two nationalities registered in Stanislaus county. The decision of the state supreme court will mean $2612 less for the school fund.

ARREST FOUR FOR GAMBLING

Coalinga's Only Negro Woman Held

COALINGA, Sept. 13.—Four local men were brought before City Recorder Minville this morning on a gambling charge and after testimony had been taken were placed under $1000 bond each until trial. N. G. Rogers, a Chinese, at whose residence the gambling is understood to have taken place, and Rafael Vazquez furnished their bond money, and C. Clatta and L. Reynolds are confined at the city jail awaiting trial. City Marshal Walter Vazquez and a deputy conducted the raid and according to evidence produced found the four engaged in a black jack game. The arrest was made at 1 o'clock this morning.

NEGRO WOMAN ARRESTED

The jury trial of "Curly" Woods, charged with vagrancy, scheduled to be held today in the local justice court, has been postponed until next week. Postponement was due to the inability of the district attorney's office at Fresno to send a deputy attorney to assist in the prosecution.

Loser Is Defender Of Motor Thieves; Youths Probated

VISALIA, Sept. 13.—On the plea of D. M. Edwards, whose automobile he stole last August, for "will the leniency the court can allow in the case," juvenile judge J. A. Allen yesterday afternoon released Earl Martin, 15, and Carlton Richmond, 18, as wards of the court. The court gave the two youths a severe lecture, however, and held the reigns of authority in its grip for any future breaks they might make. It was, perhaps, one of the first times in the course of Visalia county where the prosecuting witness appeared in behalf of the defendant.
Richmond and Martin stole Mr. Edwards' car from in front of the Elks building in Visalia and drove it toward Alexander, where they lived but were caught at Modesto and returned. Mr. Edwards, himself out about 112 in recovering the car, told the court he did not want the money back and said it was to the boys' credit that they had taken seven hours to drive his new car to Modesto in evidence of their desire to not harm the machine, which, they said, they wanted to get home in as they were without funds and can come down the valley looking for work which they could not find.

Visalia Growers Need Fruit Labor

VISALIA, Sept. 13.—The labor pendulum in and around Visalia has swung decidedly toward the "help wanted" column whereas a few weeks ago there was a surplus of labor and no work. With the last of the peach crop coming in and the grapes and grapes now being picked all the surplus labor in this section has been put to work in earnest and the growers are not counting for help once more.

It is believed the present situation will continue for a period of three weeks to a month at about which time the east side orange season will be getting ready to open.

Butterfat in Kings Bringing 10 Cents

HANFORD, Sept. 13.—The average price which creameries of Kings county will pay the dairymen for August deliveries, when payment is made, September 15, will be 50 cents per pound for butterfat. This is four cents above the average price paid last month and the quotations are improving so that it is expected that September figures will run considerably higher.

The aggregate of the payrolls of the seven Kings county creamery plants will be $391,500.

Young Riot Ends In Gun Battle; Cook Is Arrested

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 13.—After exchanging revolver shots with Police Officer Dan Cornwell, and then bombarding that officer with a volley of cooking utensils, Fred Ferria was run to earth and captured by the police following a bloody fracas in the Cusher restaurant, which Ferria is alleged to have started when a waiter informed him that potatoes did not accompany meat on plates without extra charges.

It took Cornwell, officer Elmer Hines, and several civilians to curb Ferria's berserk rage and take him to jail. He will be charged with "assault with a deadly weapon with the intent to commit murder," the authorities declared. The police suspect that Ferria, said to be addicted to the use of narcotics, was intoxicated from drinking "moonshine" when he started what is said to have been an inept riot.

Visalia Wins In Extradition

Lemon Cove Man Comes From Washington

VISALIA, Sept. 13.—Maynard Cannon, of Lemon Cove, was returned to the county jail in Visalia this morning by Deputy Sheriff Phil Robertson after a hard legal fight in the courts and before the governor of Washington. Cannon is charged with issuing fictitious checks on the Mitchell filling station five miles east of Visalia.

Officer Robertson reported the legal fight to bring about Cannon's extradition was bitterly contested on in which the "good" weight of the attorney generally office in Seattle was thrown behind the officer. The Washington governor, however, had before him a series of affidavits in Cannon's behalf which included one from Mr. Mitchell, who swore to the complaint, in which the complaining witness, according to the officer, told the governor he had sworn to the warrant for Cannon's arrest only after Cannon's father-in-law, Constable W. K. Clarkson, of Lemon Cove, had personally visited him and requested that he do so.

Last of Figs Seen In Success Section

SUCCESS, Sept. 13.—The last day of crops of both the black and the white figs are being cleared and covered this week. The yield has been very satisfactory this season and a considerable amount packed for the Christmas trade of 1921.

Uncrummers are attaining a somewhat larger size than is usual for that time of year, but on some trees the quantity of fruit is not so great. It is estimated that the increase in size will make up in weight what is lacking in number and the total output will be satisfactory. On other trees the crop seems to run about as usual.

PLAN LODGE ROOMS
RIVERBANK, Sept. 13.—A movement is under way between the various lodges and fraternal unions at Riverbank with a view of securing the St. Elmo rooms in the Martha building on Santa Fe street and having them remodeled into up-to-date lodge rooms to be used by the fraternal organizations of the town that are at present crowded in halls that at times are not adequate for their purposes. If this can be done they will have one of the best lodge rooms in the county.

VISALIA, Sept. 13.—When the Elk of the San Joaquin Valley, to the estimate number of two thousand, gathered tomorrow evening in Turlock at the banquet which will feature the institution of the new "baby" lodge, Turlock 1424, B. P. O. 12, they will enjoy the eating and serving of the largest cake of ice cream ever manufactured in the world, according to William A. Hightower, manager and joint proprietor of the Avenue Ice Cream company, of Visalia, whose concern is completing the massive prattens treat for Elklod.

Never before in their history of the ice cream business, Mr. Hightower said, has a company ever undertaken the manufacture of a cake of ice cream of such dimensions. The great treat will measure 25 inches by 32 inches by 18 inches and will be sufficient to feed 2000 people. It has been planned that it may be cut and served within ten minutes and its decorative features include an Elk's head and the American flag.

SCHOOLS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Porterville Attendance Breaks Record

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 13.—The Porterville schools opened yesterday with a record attendance in both elementary and high schools.

Superintendent Chas. E. Hupham of the elementary schools reported last evening that the enrollment for the opening day totaled 1019. This is an increase of 143 for the registration of the first day last year. The pupils are apportioned as follows: Olive Street School, 489; Morton Street School, 378; Vine Street School, 61; Richey Avenue School, 200. This number will be added to as the week progresses, which will bring the enrollment considerably over the total of last year.

Prof. W. A. Ferguson, principal of the union high school, already reports an overcrowded condition, with not enough seats to go around. The congestion will increase before the end of the week. Every effort will be made to accommodate all students to exceed 500.

ASKS WATER DAMAGE

G. Hawkins, filed suit in the superior court yesterday against A. J. and Isabel Trostman, asking damages of $2,735. Attorney J. M. Cross represents the plaintiffs.

Who apply for admission. The first day's enrollment emphasized the urgent need of a new school building large enough to accommodate the large body of students. This building, as provided for in the bond election of last spring, will undoubtedly be ready next fall. The total enrollment of the high school will not be available for several days, but is expected to exceed 500.

Air Forest Patrol Prevents Fires In Spite of Hunters

VISALIA, Sept. 13.—Thanks to the efficient patrol of the aerial forest patrol, no serious fires have been permitted to get under way in the High Sierras between the Yosemite and the Tierrasanta since the opening of the deer season September 1. The work of the rangers, the air service and the fire wardens was aided materially by the steam of the first which wet the ground considerably and the few small fires which have been noted were quickly put under control.

Usually the deer season is ushered in with a considerable number of fires caused, mostly, by hunters and this season an unusual one was sent out by Forest Supervisor Cunningham as well as the air service during the opening of one in view of the dryness of the hills. Those in charge feel also that a great deal of credit is due the hunters who have, to all appearances, been more careful this season than in years past.

GENE CLINE IS WINNER OVER JIMMY MARKUS

Markus Puts Levin Through Ropes

Gene Cline put Jimmy Markus away in the first round of the main event of the Lorton boxing show last night. Cline beat Markus with a left jab. The fight only went three rounds when Cline knocked Markus out. Cline had Markus in a bad condition.

The semi-final was a fight from start to finish between Joe Avery and Mickey Drexel. Both men put up a clever bout and at no time was there any dragging in their fighting. They exchanged some hard blows. Avery took the first two rounds and Drexel the last two.

The Joe Mackrell-Ted Levin bout was the last fight of the evening. Both boys fought for to the fourth round when Mackrell put Levin through the ropes with a crashing right to the head, and from that time on Mackrell was the winner. Mackrell showed a great improvement in his fighting and is deserving of at least a semi-final.

Red Morrow of Hanford scored a technical knockout over Kid Croson of Madras. Croson received a fractured arm in the second round and was forced to retire. Neither fighter showed much. Morrow was the more effective. Adams showed improvement in his fighting. This was his third fight and in all three has scored knockouts over his opponents.

Kid Kopecky of Fresno outpointed Kid Fields of Fresno in four rounds of good fighting. Fields showed a lot of clever fighting and signs of a coming man.

Ralph Cople of Tulare outpointed all boys and proved an efficient man.

ST. LOUIS CARDS, BY BIG SPURT, BECOME PENNANT POSSIBILITY

Some of the main cogs in the Cardinals' drive. Left to right: Outfielder J. C. Smith, Shortstop Johnny Lavan and Third Baseman Milton Brant. Below, Rogers Hornsby, batting at second base.

St. Louis fans are hoping for a new miracle which will carry the Cardinals through to a pennant. Beginning a spurt early in August, the team hit a pace which has placed it in third place within a possible striking distance of the flag. Between August 2 and September 4, for instance, the team won twenty-six and lost out eleven games, a .703 clip.

GIFFEN-WOLFE CLUB ELIMINATES GRAFFS FROM BASEBALL SERIES

Wolves Put Up Perfect Brand of Ball and Block Opponents to Tune 7 to 0; Sun Maids and Wolves Meet in Next Game

The 1921 club baseball championship lies between the Giffen-Wolfe and Sun Maid Welfare baseball clubs. Such was made possible last night when the strong Giffen-Wolfe club gave the Graffs a good example of white-wash. The Wolves hung up a total of seven victories while the Graffs got their allotment of goose-eggs.

The Giffen-Wolfe had everything the way from start to finish and hit. Anderson, the pitcher, was the main target for the Graffs' bats. He was touched for seven blows. Daniels withdrew a strong game for the Wolves and gave his opponents at mercy throughout the game.

The Wolves started out in the first inning and began battering Anderson. They scored three runs in the first. They made two markers in all other innings in the game.

The Graffs team put up a losing brand of ball throughout the game. They got one man as far as second on a wild throw, and only one hit was secured off Daniels, that going to C. Lukens.

Humpy Humphrey seemed to be the main target for Anderson's wild throws. He hit the speedy little center-fielder in the first inning. In the third inning he hit him when he was warming up so that gave a good account of his wildness.

The Giffen-Wolfe crew played in perfect form and only one error was registered against them. Stripling hit Cartwright on a wild throw to second which let the Graffs team get their only man to second in the whole game.

The two Lukens brothers are the only members of the team that really put up a winning game last night. They have performed in good order all season on short and third. Stripling hit the heavy hitters for the Giffen-Wolfe last night but the whole team deserves credit for playing last night.

There will be no game tonight but the next game will be between the Sun Maids and the Giffen-Wolfe club probably on Saturday afternoon. The date will be definitely decided by the baseball commission today. The Giffen-Wolfe team is leading the Sun Maids by two games and with but one loss left.

60 PLAYERS SIGN FOR LOCAL HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM

Teams Play First Game On Oct. 7

About sixty members of the Fresno High school signified their intention as candidates for the football eleven in the first football meeting of the season. This many candidates is reported to be a record number for the local school.

Among the sixty candidates, eight were first string players on last year's team. There eight men returned Saturday with Coach J. J. Blewett from a ten days camp at Sequoia Park, in which preliminary training tactics were introduced. Coach Blewett reports that the squad who took the trip showed up to a good advantage and he expects to build a strong team around these players. Roy Nishwander will pilot this year's team. Nishwander holds down a fullback job and was one of the stars of last year's team.

The squad was trained equipment yesterday by Coach Blewett, and tactics will be held every night in the week on the state normal field. Coach Blewett will only dwell in the fundamentals of the game for the first week or so, and from then on still workouts will be held. The team will play its first game of the season at Mendota on October 15. It is likely that a practice game with some outside team will be held before the Mendota game.

The team's schedule for the season is completed but the annual Thanksgiving fray which will again this year be held in Fresno.

ALL-STAR TEAM MAY APPEAR IN BAKERSFIELD

Plan To Bring Team On November 12

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 13.—Saturday, November 12, may be selected as the date on which an All-star team of American league players will give an exhibition in Bakersfield against a team later to be selected by Billy Williams, local impresario, and Captain D. Edmondson, "assistant" impresario, both noted in the past for their ability and willingness to shoulder baseball game bookings and to absorb possible deficits that may accrue.

The All-stars from Byron Hancock Johnson's league include such stars as Bob Meusel of the Yankees, Kenneth Williams, Jacobson, Tobin, Melman, Garber and probably Steve of the St. Louis Browns, and several Detroit Tigers, including possibly Cobb and Hellmuth. The foregoing team is scheduled to play in Los Angeles on November 12.

Whether their appearance in Bakersfield will be against an All-star National league team that is now preparing to tour the Pacific coast states, or against a club composed of San Joaquin Valley stars under the captaincy of Harry Wolter, will be determined later.

VALLEY LEAGUE BODY TO MEET

HANFORD, Sept. 13.—A meeting of the directors of the San Joaquin Valley Baseball League has been suggested for the last week in September by President Al Joy, for the purpose of deciding whether teams participating in the post-season should be allowed to strengthen and also to determine whether the Valley League and Central League pennant winners can be drawn into a series of games. Also games with John Tobin's All-star big league team, which is to come through California this fall, will be planned in this conference.

LIFE IN SIAM IS DESCRIBED

Doctor-Missionary Visits
Fresno

Dr. C. W. Mason, physician-missionary, partially supported by the local First Presbyterian church who has been in Fresno for a few days, called from San Francisco Saturday for his station in the Orient. In the Switzerland of China, the northern bay city, to Kiu-lung-kan, five days' journey to the nearest town, and 15 days' trip to the nearest doctor.

Dr. Mason spent six years in Siam with his family and the last four years in China. His family will remain in the United States, the children attending school.

The first time Dr. Mason went to Siam, the inland trip made by river boats took six weeks. A railroad is now operated in the country. The new station at Kiu-lung-kan was established in 1917, and the Masons were the first white people to live there. Later Rev. and Mrs. Dodd arrived. Siam, Mason stated, was a great nation in 1917, and the Masons were the first white people to live there. Later Rev. and Mrs. Dodd arrived. Siam, Mason stated, was a great nation in 1917, and the Masons were the first white people to live there.

A place for lepers was opened 14 years ago, and Dr. Mason was left in charge while the head doctor was on his furlough. The lepers beg on the streets, in daily contact with others, according to Dr. Mason. Eight lepers were taken to the island, now there are 50. The oil, chaulmoogra, is the treatment used and 25 per cent of the lepers are symptomatically cured; on 10 per cent the treatment has no effect. It is not known for 10 years whether or not a leper is actually cured as the symptoms may recur.

Operates on Prince.
Dr. Mason tells of performing a major operation on the hand of a prince of Siam, in the presence of 150 onlookers, the lepers taking place on the veranda of the palace. Surgical work, he said, is often done in the open, and many times, Dr. Mason says that he has operated on the face of a dirty barbarian by using the anesthetic with the left hand and operating with the right. "In all the hospital work we strive to get as near the ideals at home as possible," said Dr. Mason, "with the equipment at hand."

"The Tai or Siamese people," he continued, "are extremely interesting and it is surprising how little the world knows of them."
In China the work is entirely of the pioneer nature, and while at other stations there are men for evangelistic work, education, and medical, in the pioneer field one must do it all. The boys learn to read and write at the Buddhist temple, girls are given no education. In spite of the village of Siam, where that women hold in that country. In lower Siam, the king introduced education for both sexes.

Travel Difficult.
At Chiang Rung, the Tai name for the missionary station, a postoffice was established just two weeks before Dr. Mason left. To show the difficulties a person in that country has in hearing from the outside world, Dr. Mason said yesterday that a few years ago they received their Christmas greetings on the fourth of July. Eighty-two villages are located on a plain only five miles in diameter, and while it takes many days to travel from one locality to another, it is measured in time rather than mileage, owing to the many mountains that must be crossed. The groups of villages are located in the valleys between the mountain ridges. Dr. Mason told of the "Day Market" that rotates around the plain, one village holding market on one day, another on the next fifth day. Here rice, fish, mutton, (usually pork), etc., are sold. There is no importation or exportation of goods.

Polygamy. Dr. Mason says is only practiced in the wealthier classes.

Pent-Up Steam Makes Park Geyser Explode

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Sept. 13.—Pent-up steam, pent-up for nearly a year, exploded suddenly a short time ago while 200 persons looked on. Water spouted to a height of nearly 250 feet into the air, and a spectacular exhibition of the park has been seen.

Fifth Avenue May Lose Electric Signs

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Broadway can have its electric signs for the week around, but Fifth Avenue will have none of them.

According to merchants along this famous thoroughfare, it has been identified for future in this with signs of all sorts and shapes. In the fashionable shopping district, even if signs and billboards are not to be seen, they are still to be seen at night. Not only do the signs light up the street, but they also to some extent, all must go, they must go. If the avenue, turning from home life to business, is to retain its glow.

So the Fifth Avenue Association is preparing to ask the legislative charter revision committee to make changes which will permit city authorities to banish signs on the historic avenue.

Dewey's Old Flagship to Bring Body of 'Unknown Hero' to U. S.

The Olympia.

The cruiser Olympia, the flagship in which Admiral Dewey led his squadron against the Spanish at Manila bay, has been selected for the honor of transporting from France to the United States the body of the "unknown soldier" of the U. S. army, which will be buried with national honors in Arlington cemetery, November 11. The Olympia is commanded by Capt. Henry L. Wyman.

Constitution Day To Be Celebrated

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The 124th anniversary of the signing of the American Constitution, will be celebrated next Saturday by many thousands of organizations, according to the Constitutional League of America.

The league, which is promoting observance of the day, is a non-partisan, non-sectarian body formed to "further a greater knowledge and profound respect for the constitution." President Harding is a member of its national committee.

Chinese Teacher's Strike Terminated

PEKING, Sept. 13.—The teachers' strike which closed eight higher schools in Peking for the last four months, has been ended by agreement of the minister of finance to guarantee payment of salaries out of the surplus of salt revenue.

The settlement is a great victory for the teachers. They held out from the beginning for establishment of a reliable fund of $2,000,000 monthly for the support of higher government institutions of learning.

Old Saloon Keeper Temperance Worker

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 13.—Formerly proprietor of a saloon here, U. S. Deputy Marshal John R. Cox is today wearing a solid gold badge presented him by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the Tampa Woman's Club and the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Cox's vigilance in running down bootleggers, liquor smugglers and moonshiners is what brought him the medal. He is said here to have made more arrests in the last two years than many federal deputies in the South and last year to have run second in the country.

Rails the former saloonkeeper has led in the past eighteen months have captured more than $100,000 worth of boats, automobiles and other property used by prohibition violators and moonshiners. Cox is a native of Brathitt county, Kentucky, and is noted as a deal shot.

UNVEIL ORTON MONUMENT.
PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 13.—Unveiling of a monument in Peru by the Vassar College Alumni Association, in memory of the late Professor James Horton, will be attended by the daughters of the explorer, Mrs. Anna R. Orton. She is head of a school for girls here.

Dr. Orton, who was of the latter faculty, died in Peru on one of his scientific explorations of South America.

1,000,000 Fish Are Rescued From Creeks

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13.—Eight employees of the Louisiana state department of conservation recently assigned to the task of rescuing stranded fish have already rescued more than 1,000,000 fine game fish in the 400 miles of streams covered by Orleans, according to reports made to M. L. Alexander, commissioner in charge of the department.

Thousands of fish, many of them the finest game fish to be found anywhere, were left stranded by the receding waters in shallow pools and pits, where the hot summer sun would soon kill them unless they are removed to live streams.

Black bass, brown crappie and other sunfish, small bass, perch, buffalo and catfish make up the bulk of the stranded victims rescued from the pools for the hooks of Louisiana's fishermen.

Service Is Our Watchword

Service is our watch word and while we have surrounded this bank with successful men in many lines of business and agricultural pursuits we have not overlooked the legal side of it. Many of our depositors will want expert legal advice on many business deals handled through the bank and to take care of this particular phase we have one of our directors, Mr. Fenstermacher.

Mr. Fenstermacher has lived in Fresno for nearly 14 years and has been practicing law for the last five years with great success. As a business man and legal advisor of the bank his services are invaluable.

Capital $700,000.00
Surplus 70,000.00
All Owned by Local People

We feel this is a remarkable showing for a bank that is only about five months old. It shows the faith of Fresno people in its officers and the need for a bank owned and controlled by strictly local people.
